

ABSTRACT

This invention relates to a method for treating cancer utilizing a combination of known oncolytic agents. Specifically, this invention relates to a method for treating cancer utilizing a combination of a MEK inhibitor and 5 capecitabine.